The Rassias Method® Teacher Workshop aims to outline an effective approach that will stimulate and energize your classes. You will learn to channel your energy, enthusiasm, and activities so that they will be more productive to you and your students in the classroom and for communication skills in general. Through the techniques we present, you should be better able to create the “illusion of spontaneity” for every class with which you interact. Our Teacher Workshop provides a forum to discuss how to integrate these techniques into various curricula.
